Metro is helping to change lives in Cambodia.
Sarah Ardu

Sarah Ardu is a missionary serving in Cambodia. During her last term Sarah has been fulfilling her vision and passion for raising up a church-planting movement within Cambodia. Initially this meant planting a church in a village about 40 km from Phnom Penh, using completely reproducible methods and resources, and raising up leadership from within the village. More recently she has based herself in a remote region of northern Cambodia in Siem Pang, where she has been training a storytelling team on a weekly basis. They are creating stories to use in the follow up of new Christians. They will soon begin working on evangelistic stories.

Life Changers is supporting Sarah and in future will assist her with resources.
